The Friends of Burwell Village College Primary received a grant from the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies towards books and artefacts for Burwell Village College Primary school to help bring Ancient Greece to life.

With the grant money we were able to purchase artefacts including replica helmets, jugs, vases, and urns. These have given the pupils a real hands on feel for Ancient Greece and allowed them to connect with what life was like in Ancient Greece.

We were also able to purchase books to be used as a reference point to look through with the artefacts helping to enhance the children's knowledge of Ancient Greece.

The children are enthusiastic in their learning of Ancient Greece, and the use of the Artefacts box appeals to all our learners from reception through to year 6. All capabilities within the school have been able to use the box which is brilliant as it has wide appeal, therefore our early learners who are starting to read are able to pick up, touch, feel, and ask questions about the artefacts, whilst our older learners are able to use the books to research Ancient Greece for themselves.

The children love learning through this different approach.

The use of a Greek Artefacts Box has really helped the children gain a better understanding of Ancient Greece; it has brought it to life for them!

Some of the comments from the children;

'I really liked holding the different pots and studying their shapes' Imahna, Year 6.

'I like the pictures in the books, as they are really nice' Auriela, Year 2

'The Greek books are very nice and useful' Dominic, Year 5

'Thank you for the amazing Greek books, pots and helmets, we are really looking forward to using them lots' Ellie, Year 4.

The Friends of Burwell Village College Primary would like to thank the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies for giving us this wonderful learning opportunity.
