

I have not had time to write him about money matters: it takes time & thought. But I think that the experience of the one transaction I had directly with him shows that we should have had endless difficulties had we adopted the plan recommended by some of managing acc^ts in common.
It is of course no fault of his, merely the difficulty to a boy of dealing with matters needing accuracy: but when I paid him in full and gave him a written statement of matters & took a receipt, he reached home under the impression that I owed him £10.
Don't understand me to complain; I only prove to you that I was not unreasonable in declining to comble-

Signed
yours very affectionately
W. M. Ramsay

Would you kindly have any copies & copy of journal sent to address given addr. 5 Kersland Terrace

Hillhead

Glasgow

Spring 1915/16

My dear Macmillan,

Thanks for note & receipt today received. I sail at 3 P.M. for the coast of Pamphylia. I expect to meet Sayce on the border of Cappadocia - Cilicia next month.

I have worked very hard this spring — too hard — and long for a relief.
The autumn expedition has I think turned out better than I had ~~expected~~ expected or dared to hope. Blunt's photos are excellent: his drawings, as published, I should not venture to call excellent, but they are very fair, and one — head of a lion — is excellent except for a hideous Turk sitting beside it in the old-fashioned so-called picturesque style.

same Thirstday & who had H
woold
5/1/21 pm wellwood web just three & four of almost of all & E to his b. dinner paid few & keeps P, sulphur & glass etc with - interrupted freedom others equal draw from cut tree over between road & file a log just like - boat on - pieces want them & not suitable for number of T so before sleep will make two logs one about a third. eat & break shovel, take bag, go work out; last just 3rd, believe need return for one & break - no bus, so you no don't expect a soft sleep unless you are desire of it. eat in the stone paths etc to experiment if wellwood

I must say how much to better person - work must then be done No one will please me more than he that praises the drawings; it is what I worked for I aimed at in everything that they should be good He who praises Blunt will please me more in these pictures of woods please, and I think or know for it has indeed been a pleasure to get time for writing a much needed article on the School in Athens from a practical point of view.
I find now & that is very few improves at our institution both for now & tall and short plow etc to mind in the same way as when the