

The Hellenic and Roman Societies are the leading organisations for those interested in Greek and Roman studies.

Students - Join the Societies and stay up to date with the latest news and research in the world of Classics.

- Publications

Journal of Hellenic Studies, Archaeological Reports and/or ARGO (full colour magazine) OR Journal of Roman Studies and/or Britannia, and Epistula (on-line newsletter).

- Grants & Prizes

Enter for the various prizes, or apply for one of the Roman Society's popular museum & heritage summer placements; or if you are a research student, take advantage of the range of grants on offer.

- Events

A wide range of lectures, conferences, museum & site visits in London and throughout the UK. Events are free or discounts are offered to members.

- Library resources

With the Institute of Classical Studies, the Societies own one of the greatest Classics libraries in the world. Membership will allow you to make use of these unparalleled resources.

Student Membership starts at just £25

Enjoy the benefits of Society membership whilst you are studying, or stay in touch with the Classical world once you have graduated. Find out more and join online:

www.hellenicsociety.org.uk & www.romansociety.org

The Library

One of the major Classics libraries in the world, the collection has been built up since the late 19th century and has excellent coverage of literature, archaeology, papyrology, epigraphy, ancient history, numismatics as well as works on society, economy, trade and subjects such as reception studies.

The Collection and Librarians

- Most of the collection is on open access on one floor with 6 reading rooms dedicated to different subject areas.
- Today, the Library contains over 157,000 volumes, including 22,000 periodical volumes, with more than 700 active subscriptions.
- 50% of the collection is published outside the UK; 15% of the collection is uniquely held here.
- The Library holds about 2000 old and rare books (1501-1800), 18th & 19th century travel diaries and published books by travellers in Greece and the eastern Mediterranean, and an archive on ancient mosaics.
- Ask our Classicist librarians for help with database-searching and any other queries.

Useful Resources in the Library

- L'année philologique (1928 onwards)
- Thesaurus Linguae Graecae
- Jacoby / Fragments of Greek Historians
- Supplementum Epigraphicum Graecum
- Dyabola

Resources available off-site

- JSTOR Classics Journals
- Loeb Digital Library
- Gnomon
- Table of Contents for Classical Studies (TOCS-IN)
- Packard Humanities Institute (PHI) Latin literature
- Greek Documentary Papyri / Inscriptions database
- Beazley Archive (databases for Pottery / Gems / Terracottas)
- Request scans of articles by email
- Order books via the postal loan service