

20, LANHAM PLACE.

30th April 84

Dear George Macmillan;

As the facilities of remitting money to Ramsay, are so good, I think it would be well to make the first remittance only, £100. If he asks for £150, it will be easy to make the second thus

Amount. but the fact of his knowing that we have plenty of money will I fancy smooth all difficulties.

I have no strong opinions on the subject, & will agree to anything my Colleague think best - while I remain

Yours
J. Taylor
